Expertise

Andrea Rüttimann focuses on financial market law, especially on regulatory and supervisory topics. She frequently advises financial institutions including banks, broker-dealers, asset managers and fund management companies as well as other corporates on all aspects of securities and banking law including issues of institutional governance, regulatory compliance, KYC/AML, cross-border regulatory aspects, stock exchange disclosure rules, market conduct laws and other critical regulatory matters. In her advisory practice, she also represents clients in enforcement proceedings of regulatory authorities such as the Swiss Financial Market Supervisory Authority FINMA. Her practice also includes the support on these issues in relation to complex capital market transactions.

Having worked for the supervisory authority of SIX Swiss Exchange, Andrea Rüttimann also advises listed companies in all areas of stock exchange obligations.
